Who We Are

Klamath & Lake Community Action Services (KLCAS) is a public, non-profit 501(c)(3) agency. We seek and distribute State and Federal funding, which we allocate to local social-service providers throughout Klamath and Lake Counties. Funding supports poverty-related programs such as home-energy assistance, emergency shelters, and affordable housing.

“Our Goal is to move people from dependence on public programs to economic self-sufficiency by treating the symptoms, as well as, addressing the causes of poverty.”

Donna Bowman, Executive Director

Connecting people with supplies and local service providers at Project Homeless Connect.

KLCAS offers direct services through:

- Family Support & Connections, which serves low-income families with children in the home.
- The Family Mentoring Program, which provides volunteer mentors to help families by being a positive role model and providing support.
- The Homeownership Center provides a variety of services to assist individuals in reaching their goal of financial literacy and eventually homeownership.
